Upland trash pickup rates hiked 11%

By ANDREA ADELSON
Staff Writer

Upland residents will find their trash bills for the next year to be 11 percent higher beginning this month, or $6.55 monthly at each home, after the City Council on Monday revised refuse rates without hearing a word of protest.

The new rates, formerly at $5.90 per home, are part of a two-year agreement reached last November with Western Refuse Hauling of Chino. The higher rate amounts to an additional $150,000 annually, city officials said.

A year ago, the city's contract with the private garbage hauler permitted a 16 percent hike in fees, with an additional 11 percent allowed the following year.

Financial records covering 1982 showed the refuse haulers' operating costs had actually risen by 16 percent, Assistant City Manager Mike Matlock said.

Western Refuse's local division, providing curbside or alley pick-ups once weekly, dumps trash for Chino and Upland residents at the Ontario landfill.

Higher costs were due to increases in landfill fees and labor. Gasoline had actually decreased, according to Matlock.

He said the council had agreed last November to the two-year financial arrangement "barring major changes" in the haulers costs. Prior to that, pick-up fees were changed at the haulers' request.

The city's contract allows trash rates to be changed only once a year.

"We thought it in the best interests," to adopt a two-year plan, Matlock said.

A handful of apartment owners opposed escalating rates last year. No one spoke in opposition Monday night.

Soccer-playing dog dribbles way to success

BY STEVE SCAUZILLO
Staff Writer

Rosenveldt said Ginger has never been spoiled. But the lure of the footlights and the glitter of a diamond-studded collar could change the dog's family-centered, humble lifestyle.

"On the set, she's so damned spoiled. She eats steak, cheese. At home, she's had to go back to her dogfood ... She's just a regular dog.

"She still gets kicked off the couch when we want to sit on it," laughed Rosenveldt.

"She's a wonderful dog. She was much better than the professionally trained dog. Some have two or three stand-ins but she's not fussy at all. Boy, she's a trooper," Moyer said.

Pele reportedly didn't want the dog to be associated with soccer, a sport he almost single-handedly brought into the U.S. while he was playing with the New York Cosmos.

But after he saw Ginger do her stuff, he quickly changed his mind and asked if her role couldn't be expanded. It was done and the script was changed.

Rosenveldt takes no credit for Ginger's talents. "I didn't teach her a thing," he said. Yet something had to rub off after being part of what he calls "a soccer family" for the last 10 years.

Dutch-born Rosenveldt started AYSO in the West Valley 10 years ago and to some call him "The Father of AYSO."

Although he's not shy in taking credit for the advancement of youth soccer leagues, he denies having a hand in developing Ginger's talents.

The only command needed is a simple "Go get the ball, Ginger" and she quickly responds — dashing head first into a ball-handling technique.

Local teachers compromise on pay hikes

By NANCY WALLACE
Staff Writer

While teachers groups throughout the nation are striking and protesting, West Valley teachers and school district leaders are quietly negotiating, some arriving at a compromise.

The Upland Teachers Association, in the second year of a three-year pact, accepted a 4.75 percent salary hike from the district. "Considering the seriousness of the situation," President Mary DeYoung said, "I think we're pretty fortunate."

The "seriousness" DeYoung spoke of was limited funding from the state. The legislature granted no cost-of-living increase to public schools this year, and many districts say they simply cannot find funds for increased teacher salaries.

Upland School District officials also promised teachers they will reopen negotiations in the event the legislature offers public schools more money during fiscal 1982-83. Superintendent George Renworth said he is hopeful, but doubtful, that the state will provide more money.

Teachers in the Alta Loma School District have a comparable provision in their new three-year master contract. They settled for a 4 percent hike, with a provision for a one-time bonus if legislators approve more money for schools, or if more students bring increased average daily attendance monies to the district.

The Ontario-Montclair Teachers Association has ratified an offer for an increase of 4.36 percent, and now awaits ratification by the board of trustees Oct. 14. Beverly Cowan, OMTA chief negotiator, said the teachers will continue to negotiate a "contingency clause" to deal with the potential for increased state funding.

Increased funding may be the only hope for teachers in some districts. Fontana Unified School District trustees lamented before approving the 1982-83 budget last month that no money was available for salary increases anywhere in the district. Trustee Timon Covert then pledged that if any additional money came through, it would go to employee salaries.

Fontana teachers and district officials are continuing negotiations with little public discourse. President Gary Williams speculated that, while negotiators have met five times, they will probably not announce an agreement before next month.

While most teachers and districts have gone about their business with little controversy, those in the Central School District in Rancho Cucamonga continue to quarrel.

District officials declared an impasse in negotiations last week, and both sides now await talks with a mediator.

Chaffey high district workers get new wage, benefit boost

By NANCY WALLACE
Staff Writer

The Chaffey Joint Union High School District board of trustees approved a salary hike of 2.6 percent and a more expensive benefit package for its classified employees Monday night despite objections from the president of the board.

Classified employees include maintenance and clerical workers.

Curtiss Bonneville, Jr. said he couldn't approve the package because if similar concessions are made to all its employees, the cost would be leave the district with a reserve of 1 percent — enough to keep the district in operation about three days.

Board member Charles Uhaley said he was pleased the district would be able to retain even 1 percent in reserve, in light of the limited funding provided by the state this year.

Dean Smothers, assistant superintendent of personnel, said the total salary-benefit package is an annual 4 percent increase for the classified employees, although the district will actually pay 3.25 percent in increased costs. The reduction results from making the benefits effective Oct. 1, and the salary hike effective Nov. 1.

Medical and dental benefits were a sore point with district officials this year. Cost of the Blue Cross insurance package employees enjoyed last year jumped 45 percent. The district could barely afford to maintain the existing package, let alone increase benefits.

The high school district decision follows on the heels of the Upland and Alta Loma elementary school districts, which approved increases in salary and benefits for their clerical and maintenance staff late last month.

Upland School District approved a package with a 4.75 percent salary increase and the same medical-dental benefits despite the substantially increased costs. Upland's teachers and management also received a 4.75 percent salary hike.

Alta Loma School District gave its classified employees a 4.38 percent salary increase while picking up the increased costs of the existing medical-dental benefits. District officials approved the same for its management staff, and a 4 percent hike for its teachers.

Most other West Valley districts are continuing to negotiate quietly with classified employees.

Supervisors vote bed tax increase

The Board of Supervisors approved a 1-cent increase Monday in the county's transient occupancy tax, a levy more commonly known as the bed tax on hotel and motel guests.

Supervisors had tentatively indicated their approval of the increase from 6 to 7 percent during July budget hearings. When in place for a full year, the increase will bring the county $70,000 of additional revenue or close to $500,000 in all.

Lynn Kirkhofer, assistant county administrative officer, said the tax revenue is part of the county's general fund and is not earmarked for particular uses. The board did, however, include the tax increase in balancing the county budget for fiscal 1982-83.

Kirkhofer said the county counsel's office had reviewed the increase and determined that it does not fall under the provisions of Proposition 13, the 1978 constitutional amendment limiting property tax. That measure generally called for approval by two-thirds the voters for tax increases.

The county's bed tax is charged only on hotels and motels in unincorporated areas. Cities have their own bed taxes.

John Giblin, county staff analyst, noted that with the incorporation of Big Bear Lake the county faced a loss this fiscal year of some $80,000 in its bed tax. The increase cancels out most of that loss.

The ordinance comes up for final approval next week and goes into effect 30 days later.

Sluggish housing market closes plant

More than 50 employees of Weyerhaeuser's Rancho Cucamonga paneling plant lost their jobs last Friday — the victims of a slumping housing market.

With a poor outlook in the mobile home and house construction industry, company officials announced in September they would close the plant.

Operations had recently been limited to two days a week.

"This is for pure economic reasons," said plant manager H.L. Parsons. "There's not enough volume and business."

Weyerhaeuser has operated the facility for 3 1/2 years although hardwood paneling has been produced at the site at 11355 Arrow Route since 1965.

Parsons said all employees will be laid off at 5 p.m. today except for about nine who will clean the plant next week.

Company officials have been unsuccessful in finding a buyer for the plant, Parsons added.

Employees were disappointed with the closing, said maintenance worker Bill Allen who has worked at the site for three years.

"A lot of us intended to spend the rest of our working years here," he said.

"But we knew the economy was down."

To help ease some of the disappointment, Weyerhaeuser gave employees a severance package that amounted to 20 hours of pay a week for every week of employment.

"The company's been rather fair," Allen said. "But we kind of worked our butts off trying to make this thing go — nobody's to blame."

Employees were notified Sept. 14 of the closing but there were hints that things weren't going well as far back as March 1981 when approximately 80 workers were employed.

Production was curtailed at that point and the slump has continued since, company officials said.

Parsons said employees will be able to take advantage of a company program in their effort to obtain other jobs.

"A couple of us in maintenance already have other jobs," Allen said. "The guys working in production are having a tough time."

OIA officials bank windfall of $1,039,576

By STEVE SCAUZILLO
Staff Writer

A last minute Congressional approval of the federal Airport Improvement Program for fiscal year 1982 resulted in the allocation of $1,039,576 to Ontario International Airport.

Airport officials in Ontario have not yet decided what to do with the money, so they will bank it with the hope that more will be distributed from the same program in the next few years.

"We have no projects in mind at the moment," said Bob Quincy, airport manager. "There are many needed projects, the (eastern) extension of the (old) runway is one, an expanded air cargo area is another ... there are a number of things," Quincy added.

Recently, a four-phase runway extension project has been watered down by the Los Angeles Department of Airports, causing Ontario elected officials to call the revised plan "a step backwards."

Local representatives from Ontario, Montclair and other neighboring cities supported the runway extension in order to decrease noise over populated areas of those cities.

The air cargo area needs to be expanded in order to serve the increasing amount of air freight handled at OIA. August 1982 figures show a 1,400 percent increase over air freight handled in August 1981.

Airport improvement money, distributed to airports throughout the country, are collected from ticket taxes paid by passengers. The money must be used for airport development.

R.C. jewelry store celebrates success

Terming the event "a celebration of success," Marlin Dickey and his family member associates at Dickey Jewelers in Rancho Cucamonga are planning a three-day first anniversary party Thursday, Friday and Saturday at their store in Alta Loma Square.

The Dickeys purchased the business, formerly Adams Jewelers, just over a year ago and staged a grand opening event, complete with personal invitations, champagne and gifts of free diamonds.

That event proved so successful, attracting over 2,000 visitors and launching the family-owned business into a successful retail year, that they've scheduled a repeat celebration and tribute to customers this coming weekend.

In order to accommodate the expected celebrants, the Dickeys are ordering up refreshments, have arranged for a large tent to be set up in their Alta Loma Square parking area, and this year, instead of diamonds, will be offering gift certificates for fine jewelry.

At a time when gloomy economic news is capturing numerous headlines, the Dickey family (the entire staff — Marlin, Edgar, Michael, Martin and Kim — all are Dickeys) is offering a refreshing alternative — a "celebration of success."

Police take hard stand on truancy

Ontario police rounded up 30 high school truants Wednesday, all but six from Chaffey High School, Sgt. Julius Hemingway reported. The other students were from Ontario High School.

Officer Pat Ortiz and Detective George Stipes found most of the students "around the perimeter of the school, just loitering and not doing anything," Hemingway said.

The students were marched into the offices of school officials for possible action.

One student was taken to the police station and booked for allegedly possessing marijuana, Hemingway said.

Police say periodic anti-truancy sweeps will continue indefinitely.

Board acts to collect overdue fees

The Chino school board decided last week to take two different routes to collect past due school facilities' fees on two separate housing developments.

The board split on one of the two actions. It unanimously agreed to take the Redhill Development Corp. to small claims court on $1,800 due, but board President Lyle Briggs and trustee Dan Santo dissented in a second vote involving Chino-Ontario Development Co. and approximately $28,050.

In the case of Chino-Ontario Development Co., the district had wrongfully advised the developer that the special tax was not due on the approximately 34 units because the units were in the Ontario-Montclair School District and not Chino. It was later discovered that 17 of the units in southwest Ontario were indeed within the Chino school boundaries.

Of these 17, 10 are wholly within the Chino district, and another seven are physically split with part of the house in Chino and part in Ontario-Montclair. At the time the error was made by the district, the developer's fee was $1,650 per unit. The inflationary adjustment now puts the fee at about $1,865 per unit.

Business Manager H.C. Tanner admitted that the district had erred in the original letter advising the city of Chino that the fee was not due because the tract boundary was wholly in Ontario-Montclair. However, he said, further investigation revealed the error and the developer was notified.

Trustee Lou Moreno voiced frustration over the error, but said the district should attempt to collect the fees. He said the error was an unfortunate one.

Subscriptions to plays offered

Four totally different dramatic experiences that will comprise the 1982-83 presentations of the California State Polytechnic University, Pomona Drama Department have just been announced by Dr. Robert L. Gilbert, department chairman. The classic Greek tragedy, "Oedipus Rex" by Sophocles, will open the season in November to be followed, in February, by Alan Ayckbourn's hilarious British comedy, "Bedroom Farce." An intriguing drama from American playwright Tennessee Williams, "The Night of the Iguana," will be staged in May. All productions will be presented in the Cal Poly University Theater.

In addition to these mainstage works, the popular Cal Poly Theater for Kids will stage a delightful spoof, "The Princess in the Fairytale," for six performances in January.

A three-play season subscription for the major shows is now available to the general public for $9; a savings of 25 percent over regular box office prices. Students and senior citizens will receive a 50 percent discount if they purchase the same series in advance at $6. All subscribers are able to select reserved seats for the night of their choice just before each run of performances begins and are given first priority for securing tickets to the Theater for Kids presentation and other Departmental special offerings.

Subscription orders are currently being accepted and may be charged to major credit cards if patrons will telephone the University Theater Box Office at 598-4546 between 1 and 4 p.m. weekdays. Orders may also be placed in person on the Cal Poly campus at the Department office, Room 25-114, between the same hours or by mailing a check or money order to Drama Tickets, Cal Poly University, 3801 W. Temple Ave., Pomona 91768.

Walnut High School scholarships

The principal, Donald Skraba, of Walnut High School has announced the names of seniors who are being commended in the 1983 National Merit Scholarship Program. Letters of Commendation will be presented to Jennifer Durand, Curtis Jang, Lori Lardenoit and Dawn Moore who place among the top five percent of the participants in the 28th nationwide competition.

A spokesman for National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the Merit Program, stated, "To rank among the top 50,000 performers in a competition that includes over one million participants is an outstanding attainment, deserving of public recognition. We sincerely hope that the academically able young men and women who are commended in the Merit Program will diligently pursue their higher education opportunities and career goals. The nation will benefit by the full development of their talents."

The students being commended this month, who are now beginning their final year of high school, entered the 1983 Merit Scholarship competition by taking the qualifying test in 1981. Commended participants scored high, but slightly below students in their respective states who qualified as Merit Program Semifinalists.

recording field in 1964, many of his compositions have become classics, and are sung in churches of all denominations around the world — songs such as: "Make Me a Channel of Your Peace; Yes, Lord; Take My Hands; All That I Am."

He has composed and recorded 13 albums; the most recent was recorded in England and will be released this winter.

Temple's concert is an account of his spiritual search, which began in his native South Africa, and led him to Italy, India, England, and to the United States. He also describes the events which culminated in the creation of some of his best known compositions.

'Lovelifit' to Guatemala village planned

Christian Chapel of Walnut and the Southern California Youth Center in Rowland Heights are working with International Lovelifit of Eureka to bring relief and hope to more than 50,000 displaced persons in Guatemala.

President Jose Efrain Rios Montt of Guatemala, a Christian, has appealed to the church for help and supplies to help rebuild the shattered interior villages.

Christian Chapel has taken on the responsibility of coordinating the "Lovelifit" for this region. An appeal is going out to area churches informing them of the needs and how they can participate.

A partial list of supplies being sought includes: axes, hammers, hand-saws, shovels, pick axes, hoes, levels, blankets, vitamins, medical equipment and supplies.

International Lovelifit has requested that 11 items donated be new, except for medical equipment.

The Southern California Youth Center has donated 3,000 square feet of warehouse space for the project.

If you have items to donate you may bring them to the center between 3 and 9 p.m. The Southern California Youth Center is located in the Rowland Bowl Shopping Center at the corner of Colima Road and Batson Avenue in Rowland Heights.

For more information about the Guatemala "Lovelifit," call Christian Chapel at 598-1964.

Consecration of children slated

The annual consecration of first-grade religious school students and those of the second and third grade who are new students in the school as well as the celebration of Simchat Torah will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. during special services that will be conducted by Rabbi Elisha Nattiv at Temple Shalom, 1912 W. Merced, West Covina.

Simchat Torah concludes the week-long harvest festival of Sukkot, or festival of thanksgiving. Consecration is observed at the time of Simchat Torah because it is the holy day of "the rejoicing of the law," and it marks the great emphasis in Judaism on the ideal of learning.

During the celebration of Simchat Torah, traditionally a holiday of great merriment, the children carry miniature flags, following behind the Torah scrolls which are carried in a procession around the temple.

Consecrants will be Robyn Abrams, Katie Andrews, Kenny Aten, Danny Barasch, Jill Beckstrom, Valerie Beckstrom, Remy Bender, Jason Berman, Eric Brendzel, Linda Franco, Matthew Gross, Michelle Gross, Ruthye Havas, Heather Johnson, Martin Kaback, Shanna Lander, Lani Maass, Russell Metlitzky, Jeremy Mindes, Andrew November, Michael Pointz, Lynette Probst, Ron Sandel, Brian Sherman, Eric Thorne, Dianna Winter and Sasha Licciardo.

The community is invited to attend.

For further information call the temple office (213) 337-6500 or (213) 338-4112.

Trivalent vaccine is recommended for persons 55 and older. Immunizations are also recommended for persons over 25 who have chronic heart, lung or kidney diseases or other chronic illnesses. The influenza vaccine being manufactured for this year contains three influenza strains which recently caused disease in the United States. The strains are A/Brazil, A/Bangkok and B/Singapore.

The vaccine used last season offered protection against these same three strains.

Assisting as volunteers with the Los Angeles County program are members of the Pomona Valley and Claremont chapters of the American Red Cross and representatives of the Pomona Parks and Recreation Department, Claremont Senior Services Center, Pomona Valley Community Hospital nurses and Women's Auxiliary, Diamond Bar Senior Citizens Club, city of San Dimas and the Women's Auxiliary of District 14, Los Angeles County Medical Association.

'Outstanding' nominations sought

Nominations for the Friends' of Mt. San Antonio College Fourth Annual Awards Program are being sought from area residents, Alumni, and MSAC students and staff.

Founded four years ago, the awards program honors members of the college's staff, students, former students, and citizens who have been "outstanding" in their service to the college, to its students, to their professions, and to their communities.

The public is cordially invited to nominate persons to any and all of the four categories: outstanding alumna/alumnus, outstanding citizen, outstanding educator, and outstanding staff member. Nominators must provide complete information with their nominations to support the criteria in each category.

Judging by the Friends Committee will be based on the following criteria: for alumni, which includes anyone who has successfully completed graded course work at the college, success in career/profession, service to that profession and service to the college and the community; for citizens, service to the college, its students and staff, and service to the community; for educator, which includes certificated instructors, counselors, librarians, and administrators, service to MSAC students, service to education, and to the college community; and for staff members, which includes all non-certificated personnel, service to the college, to career, and to their communities.

Previous honorees may not be nominated again but former nominees may be renominated.

Nomination forms are available in the MSAC Public Information Office. Or nominators may submit nominations by letter so long as it includes all supporting information and the nominee's name, address, and nomination category, and the name and address of the nominator. Amputee crossing country on his hands

By JIM MARXEN
Staff Writer

Walking across the country has become somewhat of an American pastime.

In fact the last person attempting to do it probably passed through the area 15 minutes ago.

But Bob Wieland is making his cross country trip the hard way — he's taking each step with his hands.

A double amputee, Wieland brought his cross country trek through the West Valley last week.

Wieland, 36, lost both his legs in a mine explosion while in Vietnam.

The explosion ended his hopes for a baseball career but Wieland turned his attention to another sport.

Recovering from the explosion he entered weightlifting competition and at one point broke a world's record by bench pressing 303 pounds.

But the effort was disallowed by officials and 18 months ago Wieland was banned from championship competition because of what he calls a series of technicalities (one of which was the fact that he wore no shoes.)

Following that bitter experience, Wieland focused his energies elsewhere.

"At first I thought because of my experiences in Vietnam that maybe I'd go across the country to say something positive about veterans," he said during a pause in Rancho Cucamonga.

"Then a neighbor of mine recommended that I walk for the disabled and then I thought maybe I could inspire youth.

"Then I remembered the hunger I'd seen in Vietnam."

Visions of children rummaging through trash cans in search of food and of mothers handing him their starving children came back to Wieland and he decided to act.

With the help of friends — including Milwaukee Brewers pitcher Don Sutton and singer Pat Boone — Wieland put together his Walk for Hunger.

Figuring it will take six million steps to travel from California to the foot of the White House, Wieland, accompanied by a small entourage, hopes to raise the country's awareness and about $5 a step for world hunger.

Since beginning the 1½-year trek Sept. 8 at Knott's Berry Farm, Wieland figures he's taken about 125,000 of those steps.

"It's been a lot of fun," he said. "The biggest obstacle was getting these pants squared away."

Walking on his knuckles, Wieland has made his way through several cities where he has been honored by local officials. (In Rancho Cucamonga Wieland was met by City Councilman Chuck Buquet who presented him a proclamation.)

Going from city to city, Wieland and his Laguna Hills-based Spirit of America foundation feel they are accomplishing their goals.

"The response has been really good," Wieland said. "The momentum is starting to build."

Accompanied by a motorhome, Wieland has been driven back to his wife and home in Arcadia each night, however, once out of the Los Angeles area, his nights will be spent on the road.

"To the best of my knowledge no one's ever done it this way," he said.

Wieland describes the walk as an "intense" experience and says his born-again Christianity has inspired him to continue.

"This is a burden of love," he said.

"I'm an athlete and a world champion always looks at the ultimate challenge ... this is the ultimate challenge."

Our Patients Ask...

Q. My wisdom teeth are only partially through the gums, but they don't bother me. Should I have them removed?

A. That depends. Your teeth are impacted, which means that their position and angle prevent them from ever taking their normal place in your mouth. Some impacted teeth are visible while others are covered by gum tissue or are buried within the bone. Some impacted teeth can be left undisturbed, but we recommend removal under some conditions such as:

- when the area around the tooth is painful or diseased
- when the impacted tooth has decayed beyond repair
- when lack of space prevents the tooth from ever growing into its proper position
- when the impaction is associated with pains in the head or neck or with disturbance of the ears or eyes.

Map of Pomona Valley available

A full-color map of the Pomona Valley has been published by the Pomona Chamber of Commerce, according to chamber president John McGwire.

The map encompasses all of Pomona, La Verne, Montclair, Claremont and Upland and all but small portions of Ontario, San Dimas, Chino and Diamond Bar.

McGwire said the publication, which was nearly a year in the making, is color-coded and completely indexed by street. It includes a color brochure about the area.

It also includes a freeway map which includes large portions of Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties as well as Los Angeles County.

Pomona chamber members are entitled to two free copies, and additional copies are available at half the cost to the public, which is $1 per copy.

They may be obtained at the chamber office, 260 S. Garey Ave., Pomona.

The films to be shown are: "Great Expectations," "Happy Birthday" a film on the Bradley Method of childbirth, "Life Before Birth," a film on the development of the fetus, and a slide presentation by Dr. Michael Klein, a well known local obstetrician, on alternative childbirth.

The instructors for the evening are Kathi Baldwin and Gary and Vicky Martin, who are certified childbirth educators in the Bradley Method.

The class is open to the public and expectant couples are encouraged to attend. For further information, call Kathi at 980-2334.

Local retail taxable sales drop 1 percent

Retail taxable sales for 10 valley cities slumped 1 percent during April, May and June, the worst performance in nearly 12 years, according to the California State Board of Equalization.

The valley cities of Chino, Claremont, La Verne, Montclair, Ontario, Pomona, Rancho Cucamonga, San Dimas, Upland and Walnut reported retail taxable sales for the second quarter of 1982 as $384,953,000, down from $391,330,000 for the second quarter in 1981.

Goods and services which cost $100 in 1967 cost $295.50 during the quarter.

Statewide taxable sales dropped 1.9 percent. The slump did not affect all valley cities equally.

Four cities showed increases, while five others reported decreases.

Ontario took over as retail sales leader of the area, up 3.9 percent from $87,024,000 for the second quarter of 1981 to $90,428,000 this year.

Pomona, however, reported a 7.8 percent drop from $97,731,000 to $90,033,000.

Rancho Cucamonga reported the largest gain, a 16 percent increase from $22,664,000 to $26,292,000. Claremont went up 10 percent and Walnut 9 percent. Montclair showed a slight increase.

Following are the taxable retail sales figures for the second quarter of each year and percentage of gain or loss: Chino, down 6.6 percent from $30,921,000 to $28,898,000; Claremont, up 10 percent from $14,311,000 to $15,758,000; La Verne, down 6.5 percent from $14,663,000 to $13,704,000; Montclair, up less than 1 percent from $61,320,000 to $61,396,000; Ontario, up 3.9 percent from $87,024,000 to $90,428,000; Pomona, down 7.8 percent from $97,731,000 to $90,033,000; Rancho Cucamonga, up 16 percent from $22,664,000 to $26,292,000; San Dimas, down 2 percent from $10,529,000 to $10,314,000; Upland, down 8 percent from $50,764,000 to $46,633,000; and Walnut, up 9 percent from $1,373,000 to $1,497,000.
